

Welcome to Daily Discussions with God (DDwG). A helpful guide to spending some time each day reading the Bible and hearing God speak and then responding to what you have read by praying. That's what a discussion with God is like. The Bible is God's word, so when we read it and listen to what it has to say, then God who is alive, is speaking to us. When we pray, we are talking to God, thus reading his word and speaking to him, is like having a conversation or a discussion.

This may be a new thing for you or you may do it all the time. Either way we think it's a great idea to spend quality time with God each day.

As you read through the passages each day think about these 4 A's...

Adore - What did you learn about God or Jesus that you could praise or thank him for?

Admit - What did you learn about yourself that you need to say sorry for?

Aspire - What did you learn about life that you could aspire to, ask for and act on?

Ask - Is there anything confusing that you need some help understanding?

After thinking about these A's spend some time talking to God. Using the verses pray about the things you have read, what you have learnt and the things you want to change or do.

There's also plenty of space after the weekly readings and at the end of the booklet to write down the things you have learnt about God or yourself or any questions you might have. There's also space to write things you have prayed about down so you can look back and remember.

SUNDAY MORNING NOTES SECTION

Also part of our DDwG booklet is a Sunday Morning Bible Talk Notes section.

In this section you'll find a number of questions to help you think through and listen to the bible talks given at Eatons Hill Presbyterian Church (EHPC) each Sunday. You'll notice that the 4 A's are also in this section as well.

Bring the DDwG booklet to our Sunday gathering times and use the talk notes section to help you think through what the speaker says each week. You might also want to write down questions or things you don't understand so you can talk to your youth leaders about them on Friday night.

If you miss the EHPC talk on a Sunday you can find them on our website www.ehpc.org.au. In fact you can find lots and lots of bible talks here.

There are lots of great ways to grow your knowledge of Jesus and your relationship with him

So let's get started!
